Almost done! The big picture of health and wellness.

Think about health in the big picture as your overall state of wellness, and not just whether you feel well physically. Wellness includes many areas of our lives, like whether we have good relationships, find meaning in our lives, or pay the bills without worry.

61. Which one of these areas do you think of as your biggest challenge to wellness today – the area where you are farthest from where you would like to be?

   15.0% Emotional — Coping effectively with life and creating satisfying relationships
   8.0% Environmental — Good health by occupying pleasant, stimulating environments that support well-being 13.0% Financial — Satisfaction with current and future financial situations
   3.0% Intellectual — Recognizing creative abilities and finding ways to expand knowledge and skills
   11.6% Occupational — Personal satisfaction and enrichment from one’s work
   37.4% Physical — Recognizing the need for physical activity, healthy foods, and sleep
   6.0% Social — Developing a sense of connection, belonging, and a well-developed support system
   6.0% Spiritual — Expanding a sense of purpose and meaning in life
62. Which one of these areas do you think of as your main strength in wellness today – the area where you are closest to where you would like to be?

19.7% Emotional — Coping effectively with life and creating satisfying relationships
4.4% Environmental — Good health by occupying pleasant, stimulating environments that support well-being
8.1% Financial — Satisfaction with current and future financial situations
15.3% Intellectual — Recognizing creative abilities and finding ways to expand knowledge and skills
4.8% Occupational — Personal satisfaction and enrichment from one’s work
